- Make desired adjustments on master (colors, placement, size) prior to generating notes file
- Changes to master layout after generating notes file will be reflected on slides, but you will lose image thumbnails if clicking 'Reset' to reapply layout
- Current slide placeholder must be on left, and next slide placeholder on right
- Footer will display next slide title, only if title is in proper placeholder – otherwise will remain blank (but may be filled in manually)
- Title area will display title of current slide, only if title is in proper placeholder – otherwise will remain blank (but may be filled in manually)
- You may manipulate included templates to create your own
- After notes file generation, manual fine tuning may be necessary to adjust for speaker preference, break points of notes copy, etc., which is simple and easy to do
